COVID-19 has turned our world upside this past year. The light is starting to shine again, with vaccines becoming available. It is still just as important to protect yourself, your loved ones, and your peers by wearing your mask, handwashing, social distancing, and following all the CDC's recommended guidelines. If you show any symptoms or have been exposed to COVID, here is a list of places you can go to receive a COVID-19 Test. Please always consult your physician.
